LARGE 'JAP' AIR BASE ON GUADALCANAL ISLAND KNOCKED OUT OF ACTION; MAY BE TRANSFORMED AS U. S. SPRINGBOARD

New Landings in Solomons Revealed—Marines Seize Makambo and Gavutu Islands, Inflicting Heavy Casualties—Reports Indicate Tulagi Harbor May Soon Become Advance Allied Base

(By International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 15—United States forces have blasted the Japanese from their main base in the Solomon Islands and American landings have been made at two points in the 800-mile-long Archipelago, dispatcher to London disclosed today.

The naval correspondent of the Yorkshire Post, who disclosed that the American Expeditionary Force in the Solomons was being reinforced hours before this was announced by the Navy Department in Washington, reported today that the large Japanese air base on Guadalcanal Island definitely has been knocked out of action.

American Marines besieging the base have overrun the site, the correspondent said, and it was assumed that when appropriate repairs have been made and supplies received, it will be transformed into a United States springboard of attack in an offensive designed ultimately to drive the Japanese back to their own small islands.

New landings in the Solomons were revealed by the London Daily Mail, which reported that Marines had seized Makambo and Gavutu islands, inflicting heavy casualties upon the enemy and taking prisoner thousands of Japanese.

The well-informed London Evening Star in a special Sydney dispatch said all reports there indicate Tulagi Harbor soon may become an advance Allied base.

Although furious fighting still is under way on surrounding islands, the Star said, Tulagi already is the center of all Allied activity in the area.

Colored Man Held For Court in Shooting Charge

LANGHORNE, Aug. 15—Held under $1,000 bail on three charges growing out of alleged use of a shot-gun, a colored man was taken to the county jail at Doylestown yesterday to await a court trial. The hearing was held before Justice of the Peace Horace A. Cooper, here.

The one arrested is Kirby Williams, 38, who resides at "Laconie," a settlement of colored workers, mainly from Southern States, who are working for farmers nearby. "Laconie" is located in Bucks county near the Philadelphia city line.

Charges lodged were assault, assault with intent to kill, and wantonly pointing a firearm. The charges were preferred by Sylvester Howard, also of "Laconie."

Howard claims that Williams fired at him with a shot-gun on Wednesday evening. Williams admitted firing a shot, but claims he did not aim at Howard, merely firing into the air to scare him, claiming he "did not want Howard around the place." Williams' plea was "not guilty."

Officers Beckert and Dando, of South Langhorne barracks, Pa. Motor Police, acted in the case.

1322 UNITS REGISTERED HERE BY FRIDAY NOON.

Includes Houses and One or Two Rooms Which Individuals Are Renting

PERIOD ENDS LOCALLY

As many as 300 units registered in a half day has kept the registrars at the Office of Price Administration in Wood street school building busy.

Three hundred registration blanks were filled out from the time the OPA office opened yesterday morning until 12 o'clock noon.

This brought the total number of registrations until noon yesterday up to 1322 at the local office.

It was required that landlords who were renting houses or who had houses to rent, and individuals who rent one or two rooms in their homes register such during this week. The period was scheduled to end last evening, but the office of the OPA was again opened this morning for a period of 3½ hours to accommodate all who applied. Thus today noon marked the end of the period for registering of such units locally.

Those of this area who have failed to register here will find it necessary to go to Philadelphia this afternoon. Frederick T. Gruenberg, rent director for this area states: "Those who do not register before midnight, tonight, face a $5,000 fine or one year in jail, or both."

Those who have three or more rooms rented or for rent are to register at a later date.

FINED $25 AND COSTS FOR NOT OBEYING AIR-RAID TEST LAW

Vanuxem Morris Given Hearing Before Justice of Peace Arthur P. Brady

OFFENSE WAS ON JULY 30

Mrs. Ewald Henry, Warden, Testifies She Ordered Defendant To Stay Off Street

A fine of $25 and costs were imposed upon Vanuxem Morris, Radcliffe street, last night, when he appeared before Justice of Peace Arthur P. Brady, charged with violating the orders of an air-raid warden. The hearing was held in the Bristol Municipal Building, and Mrs. Ewald Henry, Radcliffe street, an air-raid warden in the vicinity of Radcliffe and Market streets, was the witness against the defendant.

The alleged offense occurred on the afternoon of July 30th during a surprise test.

According to Mrs. Henry the defendant, despite her instructions, left a building and went to his automobile to close the windows. It was raining, at the time and it is stated that Mrs. Henry twice informed Mr. Morris that he was not permitted to be on the street and that he should not go to his car.

Mr. Morris admitted that the testimony of Mrs. Henry was practically true.

This is the first case of prosecution being lodged for violation during a daylight air-raid test.

PLEAS OF YOUNG GIRL FAIL TO HALT SUICIDE

Cornwells Heights Youth Claimed it Was the Only Way Out

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Aug. 15—Plea of a young woman, to whom PFC Phillip J. Hanssens talked by telephone on Thursday evening, failed to stay the finger—which was pressed against a .32 calibre pistol, and with which weapon he allegedly ended his life in a telephone booth at an "L" station in Frankford.

This was learned yesterday following identification of the young man by his father, Russell Hanssens, of School Lane and Bowman avenue, here, when he visited the Philadelphia morgue yesterday.

Although the parents of the young soldier, a military police officer, aged 20, did not know whom the young man was calling when he ended his life, it was brought out in Philadelphia yesterday that he was conversing with Miss Norma George, of Ringgold street, Philadelphia, who he had met but a day or two previously at her place of employment in a Philadelphia store.

It is stated that young Hanssens had told Miss George when he talked to her at her post behind a counter, that he was lonely and in difficulties. She listened sympathetically. On a second day he again talked to the blonde, blue-eyed miss, and asked if he might telephone her that evening (Thursday), and she agreed.

Miss George told officials that she conversed with Hanssens for a few minutes when he telephoned, then heard him say, "I'm going to shoot myself. I'm in so deep there's nothing much left to live for." Pleas of the girl were of no avail. Then Hanssens continued: "Here's my mother's address. I wish you'd visit her for me. I've got a pet dog up there. Will you sort of give him a pat on the head for me?" The girl urged him not to do anything rash, and states she added that she had a boy friend and couldn't give Hanssens a date. "You know it's not that," continued Hanssens. "I don't think there's much use arguing about this. I'm smoking a cigarette now. It tastes good. When it's finished, so am I." Then came over the wire a shattering sound and a buzz of voices.

Excited passersby had hurried to the scene, and a police officer had been summoned.

The body of young Hanssens was brought to Cornwells Heights yesterday. The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the funeral home of Harold H. Haefner, here. Friends are invited to call Tuesday evening.

Hanssens, who had been in the army nearly two years, was stationed at Fort Pickett, Va. His parents, two sisters and two brothers survive.

Relatives, Friends, Firemen, "36 for Victory" Bid The Young Men Farewell

OFF TO TWO CAMPS

Gifts Given at Bristol Station; One Woman in Crowd Faints

As cheers went up to speed them on their way, another P. R. R. car-load of men, called to army training through selective service, pulled out of Bristol railroad station this morning. Handkerchiefs continued to wave as long as the train was in sight, and dozens of heads were stretched from car windows as long as parents, other relatives and friends could be seen by "the boys."

The fair-sized group of men, who completed all examinations, and whose names were made public last week, immediately upon induction, are now off to camps. The white men were assigned to New Cumberland; and the colored group to Fort Meade, Md.

Members of America House, Hook & Ladder Company, No. 2, were present at the station to bid fellow-members good-bye, taking one piece of apparatus with them.

Members of the "36 for Victory" group were also at the station, laden as always with gifts of cigarettes and chewing gum for the young men.

FRANKLIN WALLIN NAMED AS CONTROLLER OF BRISTOL CIVILIAN DEFENSE AREA; RUSSO HEADS POLICE

Nase-Kraft Post Buys Hall Used By The Bund

SELLERSVILLE, Aug. 15—Nase-Kraft Post, American Legion, has purchased the old mill property from William Hill, plumbing wholesaler and Palomino horse breeder. The property is located on the former Wilhelm estate of 130 acres and until only a few weeks ago had been owned and operated by the German Bund as a recreation center. The mill property had been rebuilt for modern entertainment by William Wilhelm. Later the small band of Bundsmen bought it under the guise of making it a summer camp.

In 1938 the entire Wilhelm estate was bought, being deeded under two separate names, but masqueraded as the Deutschhorst Country Club. The leaders of the movement for a time persuaded Sellersville people and others living in the vicinity that their intent was to make a summer settlement and that hundreds of cottages would be built.

Thus people from hereabouts joined innocently enough, but they speedily cut off their connections in 1939 when two men who were known to be Hitler's own envoys spoke at the "camp." They were Fritz Kuhn and Gerhard Kunze. The former is in Sing Sing Prison and the latter is under charges in the West, having been caught as he sought to escape to Japan.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

FORT MCLELLAN, Ala., Aug. 15—Frank Blaz, son of Mrs. Anna Blaz, of Eddington, Pa., has been promoted from private first class to Technician 5th Grade in the B. I. R. T. C. here.

Corporal Blaz was inducted into the army October 10, 1941, and was sent to Camp Wheeler, Georgia, for basic training. Upon completion of his training period there, he was transferred to Fort McClellan to serve as a member of the cadre when the B. I. R. T. C. was activated here in January of this year.

Corporal Blaz is a member of Headquarters Detachment, 12th Battalion, and is connected with the Department of Battalion Supply, or S-4, as it is known in the Army.

Corporal Blaz is stationed at the Branch Immaterial Replacement Training Center, which gives a course of basic military training to condition each trainee, physically and mentally, for advanced work in the particular arm or service of the Army to which he may be assigned. Men are sent from this camp to all branches of the service, according to their qualifications.

Fort McClellan is near Anniston, Alabama, northeast of Birmingham, in the southern tip of the Appalachians. Its layout of ranges for firing rifles, machine guns and automatic rifles at ground and aircraft targets is one of the most complete, for regardless of his place in the Army, the American soldier must learn to shoot—and shoot straight.

BANANA HUNT

Who would have thought back in the nineteen twenties that the then popular ballad, "Yes, We Have No Bananas," would come true in dead earnest. The banana has for years been as popular as it was common, but of late years nutrition experts have found that it is also a valuable food, particularly under certain conditions.

One of those conditions was illustrated almost tragically recently in New York City. The mother of a 15-month-old child suffering from an intestinal ailment known as celiac combed the markets of her neighborhood in a vain search for bananas. They had been prescribed by physicians as an indispensable item for the diet of the little girl, whose system was unable to use either fats or carbohydrates. Bananas in most cases of celiac effect a cure within one to three years without leaving the dreaded after-effects of malnutrition.

But there were no bananas to be found. Even when the mother sought help from a police station, officers in a patrol car had no better luck. Finally, on the tip of an operator of Brooklyn fruit markets, the police found bananas—eight of them. As six or eight are needed every day for the sick child, the issue had only been postponed. Later, sixteen more of the fruit were discovered.

The incident has served to bring to light a situation which is serious for people suffering from various ailments of the digestive tract. The United Fruit Company has announced that it will make every effort to supply bananas for celiac cases. Priority shipments will be made for the patients. If necessary, banana powder can be used to tide a sufferer over a brief banana famine.

Some gay youngsters may have to do without their banana splits, and other persons may be compelled to concentrate on citrus fruits, but this is an inconsequential inconvenience if infants can be saved from one of the strange diseases of childhood.

DIESEL ENGINE

One of the industrial marvels of this war is the manner in which the diesel engine is coming to the fore. A diesel does 50 per cent more work on a gallon of fuel than a gasoline engine. Installed in tanks, submarines and trucks, the diesel gives these war vehicles additional power and distance. It is also used in locomotives, river boats, tractors and for power in light plants and small factories.

Last year the United States turned out 4,600,000 diesel horsepower ten times as much as in 1929. This year's output may total 7,000,000 horsepower.

The diesel is exceedingly well adapted to war. It has fuel flexibility. Tests show it will run on soy bean oil, kerosene or gasoline. The fuel commonly used is non-explosive—a big factor in war. The engine can be operated in water because it has no ignition system to short circuit.

Diesels are now coming into use in airplanes. They have been introduced in automobiles. Weight per horsepower, formerly a drawback, is being reduced steadily.

Another good idea is winning the war quickly so the people who have so many postwar plans can get to work.

Strangely, the bombastic Nazi communiques from the Russian front never have anything to say about Volga boatmen.

47 Selectees Leave From Upper Bucks Co.

The public co-operated fairly well on this occasion, it is stated by officials of Local Service Board No. 1. The majority yheyed the plea to remain on the ground level, and not to go to the station platform to say good-bye. It has been pointed out on several occasions that large crowds of well-wishers, in addition to the selectees and other travelers on the platform, delays boarding of the train and hampers leaving time.

One woman in the group fainted as farewells took place, but was revived within a few minutes at the scene.

Other folks stood on the sidewalks along Garden street and Beaver street and waved as the train pulled out.

Scores Cheer the Selectees Leaving Here for Service

The public co-operated fairly well on this occasion, it is stated by officials of Local Service Board No. 1. The majority yheyed the plea to remain on the ground level, and not to go to the station platform to say good-bye. It has been pointed out on several occasions that large crowds of well-wishers, in addition to the selectees and other travelers on the platform, delays boarding of the train and hampers leaving time.

One woman in the group fainted as farewells took place, but was revived within a few minutes at the scene.

Other folks stood on the sidewalks along Garden street and Beaver street and waved as the train pulled out.

Laughter and romance are expertly blended in "Maise Gets Her Man," involving the abilities of Ann Sothern and Red Skelton. The picture opened yesterday at the Grand Theatre. ## Women Who Aided Rationing Board Are Feted at Dinner

The Bristol Rationing Board gave a dinner and entertainment last evening in the banquet hall of Bristol Methodist Church to the women who have given the board such efficient help and co-operation during the trying period of the gasoline rationing. Thirty were present.

The choir of the church served a turkey dinner. A. Russell Burton, president of the local rationing board, extended thanks of the board to the women and praised their work. "Had it not been for your untiring labors and wonderful co-operation the work could not have been accomplished," he stated.

Robert W. vonHintz, chairman of the county board, spoke in a complimentary manner of the work of Bristol board; thanked the women for their help; and praised them for their patriotism which was exemplified in their willingness to serve their country when their services were needed.

Mrs. Golden, whose duties are in connection with the work of obtaining volunteers for the rationing boards, spoke in a happy strain and said she would carry the remembrance of this occasion with her upon visits to various parts of the state, and would hold up the accomplishments of the volunteer women and the men of the board as a criterion for other boards to follow.

Mr. Cohn, who is sent out by the Philadelphia office to explain to various boards how to operate the laws for the government of gasoline rationing, was the next speaker. He praised the board and the women and said that the board's effort to show appreciation of co-operation of the women placed them in a class by themselves.

The new executive secretary, John Conyers, Edgely, responded to a call from the toastmaster and following the example of other speakers showed praises upon the women. Several of the women spoke, thanking the board for the delightful dinner and promised to continue their co-operation.

An enjoyable entertainment was given. Mr. Conyers favored with several delightful vocal solos. Miss Marie Sorenson followed with classical dancing. Messrs. Doron Green and Roy Fry gave a magical entertainment which consisted of various demonstration in scientific phenomena, thought telepathy, second sight and card manipulation.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

Eternal God our Father, whose spirit is like unto the sun, which brings warmth and light around the earth, we pray thy blessing upon the young men and women who represent our nation on the battlefields of the world. Guard over them and protect them withersoever they may be sent in the performance of their duties. May they be aware of our continual intercession in their behalf, and may they feel the nearness of the Spirit of God, even while they are separated from all that is conducive to worship and spiritual meditation. Return them unto us purified in the fire of trial and spiritually developed in the atmosphere of adversity. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
